Screen of the Mind Lesson 1

How is your life connected to what you say you want?
Since you're connected to what you say you want, what are the steps you can take right now to start working on creating what is most important to you?
When you're connected to what you want and you don't have it, what can you do about it?
when you re connected to what you want and you don't have it, what can you do about it.
