

To Think is to Create Lesson 2

According to the video, how will you know if your relationships, finances and overall results are growing in the right direction?

How do you rebound and get back on track once you've realized the different areas in your life are not growing in the direction you want?

How do you overwrite your fleeting thoughts so you can truly believe in all the great achievements you are capable of creating?