

Values Lesson 4

What is Resistance and what are some things you do that show you're in resistance?

What happens when you acknowledge resistance and what's the best way to accept the present situation?

How will you know and feel when you are actually operating from your Values?